John S. Mulholland Family Foundation, Inc.

FACT SHEET

History: John S. Mulholland Family Foundation was founded on December 3, 2013, to serve the working poor of Washington, D.C.'s most challenged neighborhoods. The Foundation is incorporated in Delaware and the District of Columbia and is a 501(c)(3) public charity, Federal tax ID is 46-4273581.

Mission: The Foundation's mission is to ensure that food pantries in the poorest sections of the District of Columbia have the necessary means to provide supplemental food assistance to food insecure, working poor families. The food insecurity and cost of living in the District is among the highest in the Nation. While 15% of Americans receive some form of food assistance, such as SNAP, that number jumps to 23% in the District. Tragically, the numbers are dramatically higher for children.

The majority of individuals are working poor or retired with some form of income in the family. There are also multi-generational families, and while the District now finally boasts one of the highest minimum wages in the Nation, it is important to remember that it is still below the poverty level and Washington remains one of the most expensive cities in the United States in which to raise a family.

Before the Foundation existed, the pantries we now serve often turned away individuals and families, simply because they had nothing to offer them. The demand far outweighed the supply. Today, no one is turned away, and the number of people we serve has quadrupled – currently 1,000 families each month.

The client families represent several races. Some are native Washingtonians and some are recent immigrants. They represent every faith and no faith at all. They are served regardless of their background or station – they simply must demonstrate a need. All are treated with respect and dignity.

The United States spends billions of dollars in aid to foreign nations each year, yet residents of the Capital often wonder where the next meal is coming from. While the Foundation does not pretend to be solving the problem, we are – along with scores of other like-minded organizations – contributing to a solution.

About John S. Mulholland: John S. Mulholland (1923-2012) was a husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather who served his country in the U.S. Navy in World War II and then enjoyed a storied career in the Federal Bureau of Investigation. A devout Catholic, Mr. Mulholland believed we are called to serve others. Upon his passing, his family chose to celebrate his life and honor his memory by establishing this Foundation to serve the poor among us.

Results: In the period January 1, 2014 – December 31, 2023, the Foundation has collected and delivered millions of cans and packages of non-perishable food and, with monetary donations, has purchased and delivered hundreds of tons of fresh produce, milk and eggs, meat and poultry. Our non-perishable donors are regional churches, schools, civic organizations and companies and our signature fresh food program is supported by donors in 18 states and the District of Columbia. We are proud of our relationships with 30 churches, 4 high schools, and various like-minded organizations, such as THRIVE, GGCDF, Father McKenna Center, CAFB, and SHARE. Our Lenten Food Drive is a staple of the community and the Foundation is the only organization in Washington to conduct a summer food drive, dubbed “Summer in the City,” when the need is the greatest. Our one-of-a-kind sustainable farming project opened in 2023 at the Academy of the Holy Cross and gleans enough produce for all of our pantries. Our John S. Mulholland Central Pantry in Brookland opened in 2023.
